Asset Recovery System

Sometimes an asset needs to be picked up and recovered. Minimize your loss by effectively tracking and managing that asset through the recovery process. Understand and manage the asset's value, recovery status, expenses, pictures, and legal docs. At a glance, see your gain or loss on that asset and the components driving the eventual disposition. Store all communication on the recovery in the tool, not locked away in one person's email account, so all team members have access and visibility.
